Expedition Overview

This amazing tour will start in Bangkok and then take you on an amazing journey from the north Laos town of Luang Prabang, down to see the amazing work being done by the Elephant Conservation Centre in rehabilitating elephants for their release into protected forest areas. Here you will see some of the 33 resident elephants who have been rescued from horrible situations. You will have many great photo opportunities from safe viewing platforms and have the opportunity to walk along side them. We will also take you trekking into these forests where you will join the researchers and learn how they track and monitor the re-released elephants.

Then we visit the Vanvieng and experience its natural beauty with the option of some adventure activities like hot-air ballons, rafting or even ziplines. Finally, we arrive in Laos capital historic city Vientiane for our final night. The tour starts and finishes in Bangkok, which has many international flight options as well as allowing guests easy opportunities to relax before or after the tour.

MEET ALEX

You will be joined by Dr Alex Mossbrucker. Alex has devoted his life to protecting elephants in Sumatra and is looking forward to exploring the plight of the Asian elephant in Laos. Alex will be travelling with us and can give you great insight into the world of elephant conservation.

BIO

Dr. Alexander Markus Moßbrucker (alternative spelling of last name: Mossbrucker) is a German born nature enthusiast with a strong interest in wildlife conservation and biology. Alex studied Biology in Hamburg (Germany), Santiago de Veraguas (Panama), Konstanz (Germany) and Freiburg (Germany), and Forestry Science in Yogyakarta (Indonesia).

In 2008 he visited Sumatra for the first time to study elephants in the Bukit Tigapuluh Landscape. In the following decade, Alex spent most of his time on the island, working with and for Frankfurt Zoological Society as a researcher and project leader. Much of his professional career over the past years has focused on ranger patrol management, wildlife monitoring, and human-wildlife conflict management. Alex is the founder and president of the Sumatran Elephant Conservation Initiative (SECI) and currently works for International Elephant Project (IEP) as IEP's field manager.

You will be supporting the International Elephant Project (IEP) in their work protecting elephants and their environment as well as other vital environmental research. You will also be helping to support the work being done by ECC in Laos.

EXPEDITION GOALS

Our goal is to provide our guests with a unique experience, to observe wild tropical biodiversity in their natural habitat. We will provide you with a safe platform to observe many rare and unique species of wildlife throughout Laos. We will also provide you with comprehensive information about the destination you are in so that you are fully informed of your surrounds prior, during and following your expedition.

Furthermore, Orangutan Odysseys has partnered up with the International Elephant Project which supports conservation programs in Laos - so travelling with us you are directly supporting their conservation efforts and environmental programs. And finally by supporting ethical and eco-tourism you are helping support the locals and the environment.

WHAT TO EXPECT

You are embarking on an adventure to places and amongst people whose lives are very different from your own. Many aspects of life in Indonesia will seem unusual. Remember that these are often the same aspects that make an area an exotic and attractive destination. While boat expeditions are considered easy, no trek is easy, even those rated "easy or moderate". In addition to the personal physical challenges you may face, travel conditions can present unexpected obstacles, such as rough and bumpy roads and changeable weather. To prepare for this "pack" a flexible and relaxed attitude. Bring a spirit of adventure and inquiry, a healthy sense of humour and a willingness to encounter the unexpected and you will find your trip to Indonesia the adventure of a lifetime!
