To whom it may concern,

I am very pleased for the Australian Orangutan Project (AOP) is partnering with Orangutan Odysseys on this important program.

AOP is fighting a desperate battle to save orangutans from extinction.

This means we have to raise awareness, but more importantly raise money for the critical conservation work that is needed to stop the tide of destruction. And we need to do this in an ethical way.

By combining fundraising with responsible eco tourism we get many benefits, including:

- funds for orangutan conservation,
- alternative incomes for local communities,
- increased public awareness, and sometimes thanks from the orangutans themselves they give us
- lifelong advocates for the welfare and survival of orangutans.

I hope you can all come on board this great program.

Yours truly
